Single Course Curriculum Provision

Single course provision is available as a service to schools that cannot provide the necessary breadth and flexibility of curriculum and where a local solution such as a connected classroom with another local school is not available.

This booklet is a guide for the management of single subject students enrolled with Finigan School of Distance Education

The NSW Department of Education Distance Education Enrolment Procedures document outlines common requirements for single course provision.

Single course provision will be considered only when the Home School Principal certifies that:

- the student meets all eligibility conditions of the selected course;
- the student is capable of working independently;
- a member of the teaching staff at the home school has been nominated to supervise the study arrangements of the single-course student, including assignments, formal examinations and assessment tasks;
- the student will be allocated the prescribed time to study single courses, including daily study/work periods and times when distance education teachers can contact students;
- procedures will be in place to ensure that the student will regularly return work and complete all tasks including assignments, formal examinations and assessments;
- the student is informed that they are required to return work each week or to meet alternative minimum standards set by Finigan School of Distance Education; and
- the student will be provided with resources where required, such as printing, textbooks, reference materials, access to a telephone, computer, internet access, video conferencing and audio equipment, that meet the Department's current specifications.

Enrolment Application Forms

Enrolment application forms are found on the Finigan School of Distance Education Website at: <https://finigan-d.schools.nsw.gov.au/Procedures-Single-Course-Students>

Applications for enrolment open at the commencement of Term 4, and close in the last week of November, for all applications commencing at the beginning of the following school year.

The final date for enrolment applications for most categories, is the second week of February. After that date enrolments in the categories 3.2.1 (Transfer from another school), or 3.2.6 (Exceptional circumstances) may be accepted.

NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA) Schools Online

Home schools are responsible for entering students onto NESA schools online for the ROSA, Preliminary ROSA and HSC for all single course curriculum provision. The home school will identify the Finigan subject by putting 4661 (Finigan SDE school number) in 'studied elsewhere' on the relevant subject.

The exception is ACT schools administered by the BSSS. In this case Finigan School of Distance Education will complete the student entry online.

The Supervisor

School Supervisors are an essential part of distance education learning. As the supervisor you:

- provide a designated study area with access to telephone for regular teacher contact
- monitor student attendance during DE lessons
- ensure the student completes work regularly
- contact the subject teacher at Finigan School of Distance Education if there is a concern with learning materials
- return the student's completed work every week
- inform Finigan School of Distance Education of variations in student attendance
- manage the administration and supervision of assessment tasks and examinations
- manage any application for misadventure
- manage the receipt of student reports, warning letters or other correspondence
- inform Finigan School of Distance Education if the student withdraws from the subject, or leaves the home school.

Learning Materials

Learning materials from Finigan School of Distance Education come in a variety of forms, dependent on student need. It is the expectation that single subject students will access the course work on the e-learning platform MOODLE. If the student requests "Hard Copy" the supervisor must contact Finigan School of Distance Education and request it.

When you receive the first learning materials package from Finigan School of Distance Education each subject will have a student planner and an assessment task schedule. Keep a file of the student planner for each student in a plastic sleeve along with the assessment task schedule. In undertaking supervision of a student refer to this booklet, in addition to the information provided on the Finigan School of Distance Education website: <https://finigan-d.schools.nsw.gov.au>

Distance Education Management System (DEMS)

The school has implemented a new student management system called DEMS. The new system has allowed our school to provide a better service to our single subject supervisors.

The system has allowed supervisors in schools to login to the DEMS Portal via a web browser and view the students in their school.

As part of our student management system supervisors have been given access to view: student reports online, courses that students are enrolled in, course resources, teacher feedback on completed work and the dates that resources were sent out, returned and completed. Supervisors have also been given access to view student assessment tasks and assessment task grades via our markbook. Supervisors need to log on to the DEMS Portal regularly to monitor student engagement and return rates.

To access the DEMS Portal you will need to go to the following link and use your schools' unique username and password. If you have trouble accessing the Portal, please contact us immediately.

<https://de.millenniumschoools.net.au/school/>

Subject Reports

Finigan School of Distance Education subject reports are issued twice a year, at the completion of Semester 1 and the completion of the year. Finigan School of Distance Education Reports for single course students are sent to the supervisor at the home school. A copy of the report should be made and kept on file at the school. The original should be given to the student. Reports are also available electronically via the DEMS Portal.

Assessment Tasks

Assessment Task schedules are included in the learning materials for years 9, 10, 11 and 12. They are sent in an envelope to the supervisor. Supervisors are to follow the instructions outlined on the Assessment Task cover sheet. The instructions may include when to issue the task, how to supervise or manage the task and when the task must be returned.

Examinations

Finigan School of Distance Education examinations may be scheduled at a different time to the home school examination period.

It is essential that the Finigan School of Distance Education examination is administered at the time scheduled on the student planner and assessment schedule to maintain the security period and to avoid misadventure appeals.

Examination Conditions

The student may only take equipment listed below into the examination room:

- black pens
- pencils, erasers and a sharpener (use pencils where specifically directed)
- a ruler marked in millimetres and centimetres
- highlighter pens.

The student may also bring a bottle of water in a clear bottle.

The student can wear a watch in to their examinations, but once seated will have to take it off and place it in clear view on the desk. Programmable watches, including smartwatches, will not be allowed in the examination room.

It is the student's responsibility to be aware of, and provide, the equipment allowed for each examination.

Where the student is allowed use of a scientific calculator, the supervisor should check that it is on the approved list (available on Students Online). Make sure any equipment, such as a calculator, is in good working order because an application under misadventure provisions for equipment failure will not be upheld.

The student must NOT bring any of the following into the examination room:

- a mobile phone or smartwatch
- any electronic device (except a calculator where permitted). This includes communication devices, organisers, tablets (eg, iPads, etc), music players or electronic dictionaries
- paper or any printed or written material (including your examination timetable)
- dictionaries, except where permitted in Languages examinations
- correction fluid or correction tape.

The student is expected to follow the supervisor's instructions throughout the examination.

The supervisor will read the examination instructions on the examination envelope prior to the examination.

Distance Education Learning

You and your students are now part of Finigan School of Distance Education.

You will find that distance education teaching and learning:

- is based on high quality, individualised programs for teaching and learning;
- uses excellent learning materials and resources as well as effective communication technologies to assist students to learn;
- develops a learning relationship between you, the student and the distance education teacher.
- Optimum results from Distance Education rely on three important factors:

The Learning Materials

The learning materials may take the form of e-learning, student booklets, USB or CD. Many single subject students will be accessing their learning materials through the MOODLE e-learning platform. The learning materials model the teaching that would take place in the classroom. The learning materials are designed to suit students with a wide range of learning styles.

The Class Teacher

The teacher chooses appropriate learning materials to meet the NESA syllabus requirements. These materials may be adjusted based on student's interests and level of learning.

The Supervisor

As Supervisor you are a very important part of the distance education method of learning.

It is very important that you and your school:

- provides a designated study area with access to telephone for regular teacher contact
- monitors the student's attendance during DE lessons
- ensures the student completes work regularly
- returns student's completed work in accordance with the student planner

Please contact the subject teacher with any concern about the program or learning materials.

Weekly Work

Each subject's course material is organised into a student planner and separated into sets of weekly work. Each teacher designs the amount of work required in each subject for each week into a work set.

The return of work is recorded in DEMS. This determines school attendance. School Supervisors and students will receive a DEMS login. One work set in each subject is to be returned to the School of Distance Education each week as per the learning plan for each subject.

Administration staff send mail to you each week and answer any relevant mail related queries. Office hours are Monday - Friday 8:00am - 4:00pm. Please do not hesitate to contact them if you have any problems or concerns.

For single subject students the home school will provide envelopes. Mailing labels will be provided by Finigan School of Distance Education.

Regular communication with the School of Distance Education will ensure trouble-free schooling. The School of Distance Education will mail out once a week to each student. Supervisors can mail to the School of Distance Education on any day. It is suggested that Monday be your regular mail day.

If Monday is utilised for mailing, supervisors can check students work on Friday, provide some time over the weekend to finish off work (if necessary), then collect all work due for the week and mail to the School of Distance Education each Monday. Work submitted via Moodle should be done by Friday at the end of each week. As a Supervisor, it is good practice to establish a regular mail out routine at your school.

Electronic Communication with Students

If students are connected to the Internet, teachers can connect with students via Moodle. This software application allows the teachers and students to talk and hold class group discussions electronically. The subject teacher will contact you or the student if they can use these systems to advantage.

Be aware that you and your student may be requested to participate in electronic communications.

The following exams should be posted to the School of Distance Education on the post by date indicated

- Year 11 yearly exams
- Year 12 trial exams

Email is the best method of contacting teachers, management and administration at Finigan School of Distance Education. All emails should be sent to finiganSDE@det.nsw.edu.au and be used to:

- contact teachers to assist with work concerns about set work; and/or
- talk to the teacher.

Returning assessment tasks or work sets via email

Please use finiganSDE@det.nsw.edu.au

- Email in work set – Weekly Work must be indicated.
- Email in Assessment – Assessment Task must be indicated. A receipt message will be returned to supervisor/student from the School of Distance Education.
- Emails are directed internally to teacher's email box.

Sending a message or question via email

- Expect an answer within 1 day (24 hours). Remember teachers at Finigan School of Distance Education will need time to answer your enquiry.
- If your email is NOT ANSWERED re-direct on day two to: School of Distance Education – Urgent. The teacher may be absent or on an excursion or Distance Education field trip.
- Not all emails will be answered if students are “chatting” to the teacher and sending a message.

Sample Email Header

- School email address for attached work is finiganSDE@det.nsw.edu.au
- Zip the file before attaching the file to the email if necessary
- Email Subject Box: state student's full name, Year, course name, Weekly Work or Assessment Task, Teacher name e.g. John Smith Year 10, English WW 10, Hopkins
- Use the header example below when emailing

Email Header

Email Subject Box: (Student Name, Year, Course Name, Weekly Work Number or Assessment Task, Teacher name)

(State this on the first part of the email message)

Scholastic Year:

Student Name:

Teacher Name:

Weekly Work: (if the question relates to a particular lesson)

Assessment Task Number: (ensure this is clearly marked)

(Enter Email message in this section)

Teleconferencing

A teleconference is an opportunity for the teacher to discuss issues associated with a subject with a number of students.

The teacher will:

- Contact students to organise a time for the teleconference.
- Indicate the Weekly Work number or Assessment Task/exam to be discussed.
- Explain the teleconference protocols and systems.

The student will:

- Be ready to take the call at the pre-arranged time.
- Call the School of Distance Education prior to the teleconference if not available for teleconference (should have good reason).
- Have completed prior reading and be ready to participate in the discussion.

A teleconference often replaces work within a work set and allows group discussions.

Teleconferences are not available for all courses. Senior courses have priority and more often organised when a group of students are enrolled in the course, otherwise the teacher will telephone students individually.

Videoconferencing

Video conferencing is a technology used at Finigan School of Distance Education. This facility allows access to groups of students at schools for Single Course Students.

The teacher will:

- contact students to organise a time for the videoconference;
- indicate the Weekly Work number or Assessment Task/exam to be discussed; and
- explain the videoconference protocols and systems.

The student will:

- be ready to take the conference call at the pre-arranged time;
- call the Distance Education School prior to the videoconference if they are unavailable for the videoconference (they should have good reason); and
- have completed prior reading and be ready to participate in the discussion.

Moodle

Moodle is an e-learning platform used at Finigan School of Distance Education to deliver online courses. Moodle allows students to access courses via the Internet – anywhere, anytime.

Students are able to:

- download resources and activities;
- complete quizzes;
- participate in forums and wikis;
- access podcasts;
- view video and audio files;
- upload completed files; and
- message/email their teachers.

Another very useful feature of Moodle is that work can be submitted electronically. Work files can be uploaded for teacher assessment all within the Moodle Platform. Teachers then correct work and return marked work via Moodle.
